Coleman's Johnson Rink Lose To Dancey In Pontiac Final. Marcolin Wins Studebaker

Three Coleman Rinks In Cole Consolidation semi-Finals. Holstead Meets Carmichael of Blairmore; Jim Kerr Battles Jenkins Rink In Next Sunday's Wind-up.

Major competition in the Pontiac-Studebaker-Cole bonspiel came to an end in the Bellevue Arena on Sunday evening last as a packed gallery saw the Dancey rink of Blairmore retain possession of the Pontiac trophy for another year following a thrilling tussle with the Reuben Johnson rink of Coleman. The Blairmore quartette took the lead on the first end and held it grimly to the seventh where Johnson wiped it out with a beautifully manufactured triple lay. Dancey came back brilliantly on the next end to duplicate Johnson's feat and regain the lead, 9-6. A masterly draw shot by Vangotsinov on the ninth end made it 10-6 against Johnson but the locals swarmed into the "house" for the 10th for another triple to cut Dancey's margin to one rock.

The cup-holders won the battle of strategy on the 11th to regain the three-rock margin for the crucial coming home and the excited gallery closed in for the climax. Dancey's No. 1 man led off and sent down a perfect rock that sat right on the charmed inner circle. Johnson's lead man missed his take-out shot by the proverbial coat of paint and the Dancey rink followed up their advantage by laying guards with machine-like precision. The Colemanites made a last ditch stand on DeLuca's sneak shot that got through to partner the Dancey rock but the Blairmore skip put a firm grip on the trophy's handles by taking out DeLuca's rock and replacing it with his own to all but clinch the ding-dong struggle. Johnson's last rock came up to scatter the guards but when the smoke of battle had cleared, Dancey's twin point-makers lay undisturbed and it was all over for the hard fighting Coleman rink, 14-9.

In the All-Bellevue final for the Studebaker Cup, the Chick Dambols rink came apart at the seams and Bill Marcolin took an easy conceded triumph on the completion of eight ends, 15-1.

In the meantime, at Coleman Curling Arena, a trio of Coleman rinks were knocking off the opposition to give only one non-Coleman rink a berth in the Cole Consolidation semi-Harvey Carmichael, of Blairmore, brushed aside the Lamey quartette to join the Holstead, Jim Kerr, and Jenkins' rinks for next Sunday's play-offs.

Children's Ice Frolic Draws Large Crowd Despite Sub-Zero Windstorm

Bernice Beal and Betty All-sop, of Bellevue Delight Crowd with Pleasing Figure Skating Performance. Pipe Band and Costume Parade Add Color.

Coleman Community Sports Association did it again on Saturday evening last when they staged another highly successful Free Frolic for the children of Coleman. Hot Dogs, Chocolate Bars and Pop were dished out unstintingly to the kids as they swarmed into the Arena for their big night. Coleman Pipe Band, under Pipe Major James Moore, led the Costume Parade that opened the show. All the entrants in the colorful parade were awarded prizes.

Races for all ages provided a share of thrills and spills. Prizes were awarded to the following: Mary Kolbus, Irene Michalsky, Elaine Desharnois, Josephine Russell, Fav Tiberghen, Esther Robotka, Peter Chaluk, Ken Sayer, Noel Lavasseur, Walter Zur, Albert Getman, and Jimmy Ewing.

The chuckwagon race was won by Billy Clande over George Jenkins Jr.

Other prize winners were:

John Tymchana, Gordon Kerr, Richard Chernatski, Danny Fraser, Bruno Kuchtry and Adam Kryzka.

Highlighting the evening's entertainment was a figure skating exhibition by Betty All-sop and Bernice Beal, of the Bellevue Figure Skating Club. Handicapped by a sheet of ice that was too dry and fast for figure skating purposes, the Bellevue girls drew cheers from the children and grown-ups alike for the manner in which they went through the intricate motions of their number.

Following the duet, Miss Beal returned to the ice for a spotlighted solo number and won the acclaim of her youthful audience for a plucky piece of showmanship despite treacherous conditions of her stage.

Moving swiftly from the sub-lime to the ridiculous, a broomball contest was the next attraction with the Elks clashing with the Lions. The stands were in a continuous uproar as the stiff-legged skaters participants went through some amazing gyrations in effort to sweep a rugby ball into the opposing hockey net. Steve Kryzwy, in the Elk nets was the cause of his team's defeat. The Lions fired six shots at Steve and he fanned on every one of them. At the other end, Horace Allen turned in a terrific performance, clearing the pigskin with the wildest swinging ever seen in a Broomball game.

As a matter of fact this helped him greatly in securing his shootout as no Elk dared venture within "Horrible Horace's" range unless they liked the idea of spending the rest of their lives on a headless basis!

Between these two net-minding stalwarts a lot of action took place but we were completely unable to identify any of the assassins due to the brooms being swung around at such fiendish speed and deadliness. Jim Wilkie was observed in the act of beheading someone but a feminine scream from the sidelines saved his intended victim's scalp.

A girls' hockey match brought the memorable evening to a close.

Coleman's Mystery Woman Dies

Death Claims Mrs. Rbt. Holmes Dies.

Had Lived in Coleman For 35 Years. Prominent Member of United Church.

Another link with the early history of Coleman was severed on Friday afternoon last at the Miners Union hospital in Coleman when Mrs. Robert Holmes passed away following an extended illness. Mrs. Holmes would have been 71 next May. She was born in Muirkirk, Ayshire, Scotland.

Deceased was a popular member of the community where she had resided since her marriage to Robert Holmes, in 1914. Her main interests were connected with the United church, particularly in the Missionary Society and Women's Aid. She was also active in the work of the Salvation Army for many years.

Among her many talents was the gift of recitative expression and to countless Colemanites who gathered at Caledonian and Burns' Night celebrations in years gone by, she will be best loved and remembered for her spirited renditions of old Scottish verse. Let us mourn her passing are her husband Robert, 3 sons, Alex, Tom & Jim, all of Trail, B.C., and eight grandchildren; a step-daughter, Miss Sarah Holmes, of Trail. Two children predeceased her, a son, Bob, died in Regina and a daughter, Janet, at Fernie.

Mrs. Seymour stated her mother's full name was Francis Emma Pringle and that she was a native of Cadillac, Michigan.

Town and School Meetings Involve Prolonged Session

All Reports Accepted by Small but Vocal Gathering of Ratepayers

A total audience of thirteen persons gathered at the Town Hall for the Annual Meetings of Town of Coleman and School District ratepayers on Monday evening, February 14. Mayor Abousaify was elected unanimously to preside over the Town meeting and in his opening remarks commented on the presence of a group of High School students. He expressed the fervent hope their being there was an indication of increased interest in civic affairs among the coming generation of Coleman.

The financial statement was presented by James Ramsay and was accepted unanimously and in complimentary mood by the assembly. Wif Dutil presented the Works and Property Report and in the course of his remarks outlined the progress made in spite of delaying factors caused by last Spring's Nez Perce floods.

Mr. Dutil was the target for some pertinent questions concerning Ash collecting but his able defence of the Department's policy and clear-cut explanation of the various problems confronting them met with the unanimous approval of the meeting. The police report was accepted as read.

Due to the fact that the Calgary auditors had not yet completed the Light and Water statement, a rough draft of the Report was presented for the meeting pending the arrival of the finished audit. The Mayor pointed out that the auditors in drawing up this report had assured him any revisions in the final report would be of a minor nature and the statement as prepared would be fairly accurate in presenting the state of affairs in the Light and Water Company.

On the basis of the report the gathering expressed their pleasure at the knowledge that the community owned utility had shown a substantial working profit for the initial year under Council direction and several speakers arose to compliment the directors on the able manner in which the new venture was being handled. The report will be published as soon as it is received from the auditors. The report, in its present form shows a profit of over $22,000 for the first year's operations. It is hoped to retire $12,000 into a reserve fund from this year's margin on the basis of $1,000 per month. During the discussion on Light and Water it was revealed that chlorination of the water supply may become ultimately necessary. A hearty vote of thanks to the Council was moved by Horace Allen and seconded by George Ford. In the

TACKLE PROBLEM OF KEEPING YOUTH ON THE FARM—The problem of keeping young Canadians on the farm has been tackled by use of "folk forums," get-togethers at Chepstow, Don Weber and Helen Farrell wash dishes. Older farmers are helping the young to stem the growing migration of thousands of farm boys and girls to the cities. Host to the young people was Ma Zettle, shown with Evan Smyth, (left), and Norbert Kroepin, ad-

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY

12 O'CLOCK AT MIDNIGHT

Could Any Man In His Right Mind Put Fortune Between Two Lovers?

I SUPPOSE it is absurd to talk about "hunches," and yet I knew what was in that letter. As plainly as though I had read it, I knew its contents, and they were going to change the course of my whole life. The climax of my life was at hand. The time was approaching when I must make my choice.

I changed my clothes and washed. Then I went to the ice box and mixed a drink.

The letter lay unopened on the table before me.

As though drawn by a magnet my eyes kept staring at the envelope. It wasn't as if I did not know what was in the letter. It was like looking at something you fear. I flung myself into a chair. The clock said 10 p.m. Beads of perspiration formed on my forehead. I reached for the letter and tore it open.

"We take this opportunity of reminding you (the reader) that your late Uncle James A. Babbit, who dreamt of keeping all his money solely with the family. His will clearly stipulates that unless you renounce your right to get married by twelve o'clock midnight on the last day of this year you will be disinherited..."

Like the summons of doom the telephone rang. "Hello," my voice sounded hollow.

"Randy," said a dear, familiar voice. "It's almost time. Take the money and forget me."

By WALTER STEELE

"But, honey, you know I couldn't do that," I protested. In my heart, however, I did not feel certain. "I don't want you to think that I stood in your way."

That was so like Ann, kind and considerate. Her beauty had been haunting my dreams for weeks now . . . at the time approached to make a choice between a fortune or marriage. Ann. How could Uncle James have been so blind? He could any man in his right mind put a fortune between two lovers and their happiness? Desperately I told Ann we'd better get married anyway. But I did not sound very convincing.

The lawyer, handling my Uncle's will was coming up at eleven for my final answer.

I felt a warm exhilaration as I thought of the money; how I would be able to splash on the surf at Pa'goona; or listen to primitive music on the deck of a cabin or, perhaps, on the front deck of a yacht. More. I could even travel around the world, if I felt like it. What was love in comparison to all this? Yes, what was it? Had I better take the money after all?

My thoughts were rudely interrupted by the ringing of the doorbell. My uncle's lawyer, Mr. Babbit, had arrived. He was slim, greying, and had a correct, efficient manner.

I tried to draw him out on whether I should take the money or marry Ann, but "his interest," he replied, "was purely professional and he would rather not offer any advice on the matter."

"You also have been told?" continued the lawyer. "That there is a codicil to your uncle's will, to the effect that if you decide to marry, the final disposition of the money is enclosed in a sealed envelope. This is not to be opened until one minute after the old year."

"Drat that old coot, anyway!" I exploded. "He has made my life miserable! It seems to me that no matter what choice I make, the rest of my life will be spent regretting that I didn't just do the opposite."

"Well, you can't do anything except what you could call an eccentric. He was, however, somewhat of a philosopher. Being a self-made man he thought that money just handed to people on a silver platter destroyed character. In one respect he is doing this because he knows that if you accept the money in the place of your girl friend you probably won't be responsible after a few years that the money will be a curse to you. On the other hand if you marry the girl you will be far happier than anything money can buy."

Surprised I glanced at the clock. Ten minutes to twelve. The moment I had feared for months was now at hand. Desperately I tried to think. But my mind seemed to fail me. I could just sort of look around in a daze.

Mr. Babbit simply sat in his chair and watched me, his professional appearance unaffected just as if he were handling a routine affair.

The ticking of the clock seemed to fill the room. I could imagine it mocking me. It seemed almost human and filled with the wisdom of the ages. I felt like asking the clock for its advice. The stillness started me. I began to imagine $500,000 heaped in the middle of the living room floor. It looked like a big pile. Then I saw Ann sitting beside it. She was young, beautiful, exquisitely dressed, her hair was shining like a picture in a magazine. Then she was playing with the money, tossing it in the air; the money showered around the room like leaves in a windstorm. The clock ticked away like a piano during a melodrama. Then Ann produced a match, lighting the big stack of money. The flames roared toward the ceiling. I looked at the clock. It was eleven-twenty. I exploded. "Keep the damn money! . . . sleep it! I'm taking Ann! I love you, Ann!"

Dimly I heard the clock toll off twelve and the lawyer's voice.

Started, it brought me back to normal and I felt a warm, peaceful glow; the tension had gone. At last I was the same Randy James I had been before my uncle's will. "Sorry, Mr. Babbit, I guess things were just too much for me."

"That's all right, you have had a hard time of it. You did the right thing, lad! I'm proud of you. I am glad you have chosen to marry the money. Now we can open the codicil and see who gets the money."

The lawyer pulled out a long impressive envelope from his inside pocket and ripped it open. Reading:

"To my nephew Randolph James:

"This letter was to be opened only in the event that you chose to marry in the place of money. So I assume that you refused my money. I put you to this test, Randy, because Ann is the daughter of a girl I once loved. Ann is a deserving woman like her mother. If you had taken the money, certainly you would not have been worthy of her love. Now that you have chosen to marry her, bequeath my fortune to you just the same. May you both be happy."

SAYS TRUCK LOGGING APPLES PIE NOWADAYS

VANCOUVER — Albert F. Grant, of Courtenay, B.C., considers truck logging today "a piece of apple pie with cheese" compared to "old days."

Grant, who claims to be the first truck logger on Vancouver Island, now operates a fleet of six 30-ton trucks with his brother Bob.

He said he had his first start in 1921 with a 15-ton truck. It had a wooden body, hard tires, wooden wheels and no cab.

"We had fun trying to keep the tires on," he said. "The heat would shrink the wooden wheels and the tires would fall off."

NOTES AND COMMENTS

LET'S ALL TAKE PART

It is to be hoped that the coming municipal and school elections will evoke greater interest among ratepayers of Coleman than that evidenced by their absence in great numbers from last Monday night's annual meeting. Mr. Horace Allen's observation that the small number present was an indication of the town's confidence in those entrusted with the administration of its political and educational affairs was a most compliment to councillors and trustees alike, but it reflects no great honour to those of us who shirk the responsibilities and privileges of taking part in the common, but vital process of community living.

MARGY, MARGY,
IT'S YOU'

Margarine is still conspicuous by its absence from the counters of Coleman's grocery stores but in the meantime we are enjoying its dubious 67 varieties of taste by remote control. The columns of the daily press are flooded with comments, pro and con, on the virtues and vices of this solution to the butter problem and by a system of analysis known only to ourselves, we have arrived at the following conclusions: it tastes like mud; it is the greatest contribution to the dinner table since the discovery of the first brick of Neapolitan Ice Cream; don't try it on your family dog; when you do buy it, insist on the bluish purple colour motif, any other colour fades quickly under ordinary housekeeping; buy all you can while it's still legal, only bootleggers will be handling it inside of six months!; use it to clean the door handles on your car—if they don't oxidize, it is then fit for the family; buy it anyway, at 45 cents a pound you can't lose!

Minds don't come in a package!

Thousands of boys and girls in Alberta have never been to school. Never known the personal guidance and interest of a teacher. They are taught by correspondence—and minds don't come in a package. Better than nothing you say? Of course—but isn't the education of our young people the most important duty we have? Shouldn't we as concerned about it as we are about roads, or health, or minerals? Let's make education the first consideration of the Province. Express your opinion to your M.L.A. In the minds of children today is what Alberta will be tomorrow.

Red Cross Drive Starts Feb. 28

With particular emphasis on the health and medical services of the Canadian Red Cross Society, Arthur L. Bishop, chairman of the Red Cross National Executive Committee, today announced the official opening on February 28 of the Society's 1949 national appeal for funds with an objective of $5,000,000.

"This sum is needed for the continuance of the vitally important peacetime work now being undertaken by your Red Cross," said Mr. Bishop. "The Society's work in Canada is one of human kindness with citizens of every race and creed working together for a better national health and relief of human suffering."

Mr. Bishop referred particularly to the Society's health and medical services; "A great deal has been accomplished in past years to bring modern medical aid to the three million people to be done in the future," he said. "This year the Canadian Red Cross hopes to see the completion of the free national Blood Transfusion Service, already operating in several provinces, so that every Canadian in need may receive the life-giving benefits of blood transfusion therapy without cost. The ultimate operation of this service on a fully national scale will mean the saving of many lives throughout the years."

Another important Red Cross service is the Outpost Hospital programme with 75 hospitals and nursing stations serving frontier communities from coast to coast. Through this service our modern pioneers are given a fighting chance to settle the frontier lands so that we may better utilize the tremendous resources of this country.

There are other Red Cross services designed for the protection of Canadian lives and the promotion of better health. They include aid to sick and disabled veterans, Junior Red Cross, Crippled Children's Work, Disaster Relief, Medical and Dental Services, Swimming and Water Safety, First Aid, Home Nursing, Sickroom Supply Loan Cupboards, Canadian Red Cross Corps, Emergency Nursing Service, Homemakers' Service and Highway Aid Posts.

"The support of all the people of Canada is asked to make it possible to carry out this peacetime programme. The Red Cross is confident that Canadians everywhere will respond to this important appeal, with the same wholehearted generosity they have displayed in past years."

Lions Hear Details Of New Hospital

The regular supper meeting of the Lions Club of Coleman was held in the Grand Union banquet room on Monday evening last. Members heard an interestingly detailed address on the Crows' Nest Pass Municipal Hospital from its secretary-treasurer, Alex Balloch. Mr. Balloch traced the history of the institution from its inception in 1944 up to the present. He stressed the difficulties experienced by the Board in its efforts to complete this long needed and long waited central hospital.

The contract was let on the understanding that its completion would be accomplished inside a period of fifteen months but subcontractors had fallen short in concluding the various jobs allotted to them and finally the Board had been forced to take drastic action to speed up the final stages. Mr. Balloch pointed out that the work was seven months behind schedule but the opening date was now only a matter of a few weeks away. In the matter of cost the final figure would be roughly $20,000 over the estimated $202,955.

The actual opening date had not yet set but preparations were being made toward making it an appropriately memorable day in the history of the Crows' Nest Pass.

Mrs. Holmes' Funeral Service

Impressive Services at Church For Coleman Pioneer.

Reflecting the esteem in which she was held in the community, the pews of St. Paul's United church were packed yesterday afternoon for the funeral service conducted by the Rev. James Macgowan for the late Mrs. Robert Holmes. The congregation sang two of the deceased's favorite hymns, "Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah" and "Rock of Ages." A solo was sung by Mrs. Boorman, of Blairmore. Pallbearers were Charles McQuarrie, Fred Smith, Mr. Wood, Neil McKinnon, William Artrubus and James Glendinning. Interment was in Coleman Union cemetery.

Alban's Church drew a good congregation, including many visitors, despite the bad weather. Rev. A. S. Dewdney's special sermon for the occasion was on the subject, "What Does the Church of England Stand For?"

From the Reformation she had derived an emphasis on the Bible and a sense of the freedom and responsibility of each person towards God.

She stood for a combination of all that is true both in Catholicism and Protestantism.

After the service a social hour was enjoyed with contributions from the following: Vocal quartet, Lenore Dull and Francis Graham; two piano solos, Joan Johnston; and a lively monologue by Mrs. Walter Purv. Refreshments were served by the Women's Association.

Mr. Charles Vall, of lethbridge, was the recent guest of his daughters, Mrs. Harold MacLean and Mrs. W. Clarke.

Good Seed Produces ...A BETTER CROP

This sterling advice is as old as the history of agriculture. Throughout the ages agricultural authorities have noted that to obtain a good crop, good seed must be used. The very best seed obtainable is REGISTERED SEED produced under the stringent rules, regulations and supervision of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association and of the Dominion Plant Products Division. REGISTERED SEED is guaranteed for trueness-to-variety, to be of high germination and to contain the very minimum of impurities.

A few bushels of Registered seed sown on clean land is an investment that will certainly bring to any farmer, HIGHER YIELDS and HIGHER GRADES. Barley in particular is a crop with which there is room for a good deal of improvement which can easily be brought about by the use of Registered seed.

Norman Hopkins Weds In Naval Ceremony.

Marriage Performed in Ship's Chapel at Esquimalt, B.C.
Peter Graham Supported Groom.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at H.M.C.S. Naden Chapel at Esquimalt at 2 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 29 when, before the altar decorated in Spring daffodils, Marguerite Joyce, second daughter of Mrs. Jean Harrow and the late Mr. James Harrow of Vancouver, B.C., became the bride of Electrician William Norman Hopkins, only son of Mr. and Mrs. William George Hopkins of Coleman, Alta. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Lea Gillard, M.B.E., R.C.N.

Given in marriage by Mr. Arnold McDermid, the bride chose a tailored afternoon frock of queen's blue wool, with navy accessories and white gloves. The groom selected a dark carnation entwined with pink roses. Bridesmaid Miss Lillian Smith wore a tailored afternoon dress of pale blue with black accessories and a corsage of deep rose carnations.

Supporting the groom was Mr. Peter Graham, also of Coleman, Alberta.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. McDonald, 2332 Thompson Avenue. A beautifully decorated candle-lit table was centred by the wedding cake, surrounded by blue tulip Mrs. J. Harrow and Mrs. A. McDermid presided at the urns. The toast to the bride was given by Mr. Peter Graham.

Later the bride and groom left for their wedding trip to Seattle and Bellingham. On their return they will reside in Victoria.

Commercial Puck Warfare Resumes

Eks Tie Legion White Board of Trade Hurl Graftontown Invaders Back Outside Town Limits.

After a lapse of two weeks to allow the squabbling to cease, the Commercial Hockey League's weird brand of puckchasing returned to the Arena on Sunday afternoon last with another double-header offered to the loop's many followers.

In the opener, "Dry Goods" Morris' Legion White Board of Trade Hurl Graftontown Invaders back outside town limits.

In the afternoon's feature event, Morris' "Wet Goods" Drew drove the Legionaries at top speed in the opening period and looked like an easy triumph for Brother Bill and Jack Rushton's Elks came to life in the middle canto to go ahead.

Mike and Joe Warrener were playing sensational hockey for the Elks at this stage and in a desperate piece of strategy, Drew threatened to interdict the entire Legion crew unless the stoppage calling. This had an electrifying effect on Dingley Daly who promptly charged through the entire line-up of Elks to tie up the score. The Elks were handicapped by Jack Rushton's frequent gallops to the dressing room to warm up. In his absence, the Brother Bills were demoralized and Rushton undoubtedly face a court martial at the next league meeting. The battle ended in a 7-7 tie.

Since starting this report we received a "nasty" letter from Graftontown informing us to print the final score as 14-7 in favor of the Graftontown Grafton. Okay, pal, but this will cost us some advertising.

THE GREATEST CO-OPERATIVE

Life insurance companies are sometimes looked upon as the strongholds of the accumulations of the rich. Such a view completely overlooks the co-operative nature of life insurance.

The funds of the life insurance companies are made up of the savings of thrifty persons who even while life represents a complete cross-section of the entire nation.

These savings provide a backlog, in many cases the only backlog, of protection and security for the individual policyholder and his dependents.

Basically, life insurance is the product of the efforts of millions of people who are thus able to protect themselves against the uncertainties of life—an end which they could not ordinarily accomplish individually.

Commodore Orr To Be Signal Chief

New Signals Head is Brother of Mrs. W. Mozell, of Third Street.

Ottawa, Feb. 7—A new step to strengthen Canada's defensive set-up was disclosed today when the Air Force announced all its signals activities have been placed under one man, Air Commodore W. A. Orr, C.B.E. of Wetaskiwin and Old Ottawa.

Qualified officers said the appointment, restoring a wartime set-up, reflected the vital importance of communications in the defence system. As chief of signals, Air Commodore Orr will be in charge of developments in radar, electronics and other fields.

The announcement said that since the war each division at headquarters was assigned separate signals responsibilities. The operations and training divisions controlled the allocation and use of mobile radar equipment while the technical services division developed and supplied the equipment. Now all signals functions will be in one department providing over-all co-ordination and control.

Air Commodore W. A. Orr, a University of Alberta graduate, was commissioned in 1916 and has been a signals officer since 1937. He is a graduate of the specialist signals course of the R.A.F. Electrical and Wireless School, and the Imperial Defence College, both in England. Appointed Commander of the Royal Canadian Air Force in 1946, he became Deputy Air Member for Air Plans, organization, at headquarters prior to taking up his new duties.

The foregoing is the reason for the proud smile being worn these days by Mrs. W. Mozell, of 312 Street. Mrs. Mozell is a sister to Canada's new commander of the vastly important signal forces.

principle of Canadian banking.

NEXT time you are in your bank, notice how many people keep their cheques face down... just like you... while they make out their deposit slips. Notice how they close their passbooks before handing them in—and get them back closed too.

Canadian bank service is recognized by everyone as confidential. Every employee, when he came into the service of your bank, took a solemn declaration of secrecy. Your relationship with your bank is the most vitally confidential business relationship you have.

Contrast this Canadian way with conditions in lands where freedom is denied--where every bank is a political tool, every banker a public official working for the State! State monopoly of banking, proposed by socialists here, would open your banking transactions to political intrusion.

Town And School

 presentation of his motion, Mr. Alien advised the Council not to be too unduly disappointed at the meagre attendance.

He reminded them that while it was a negative manner of approval, had the ratepayers any cause to be disturbed over the way the Town's affairs were being handled, they would have been there in large and loud numbers.

Mr. Dutil took the chair for the school meeting and called upon Mr. Dave Holly, the only trustee present, to present the annual School District statement.

In the question period that followed its reading the amount of insurance being carried was described as being too low and a motion was carried that the incoming Board be instructed to consider a drastic upward revision. This was the only point on which the assembly challenged the statement and the report was accepted unanimously.

Principal David Hoyle then presented his annual report and a lengthy discussion followed on various aspects of Coleman's educational problems. A statement from the floor that suggested the Council was tardy in its approach to the School's expansion program drew a sharp reminder from Mayor Abousayyaf that the Council's financial outlay for School purposes had almost doubled itself in the past five years, from an outlay of $48,000 in 1944 to over $70,000 during the past year.

In the matter of statistics, Mr. Hoyle announced Coleman's registration of pupils was now over the 600 mark, with an average of 50 new pupils each fall. In the matter of scholastics, he was not entirely satisfied, but drew the assembly's attention to the fact that Coleman's passing percentage was 86 for University standard as compared with the Alberta average of 70. The diploma standard was 97 for Coleman compared with a provincial average that was drastically lower.

He touched on the critical reaction of parents to the numerous failure in Grade Nine examinations and pointed out that this particular test was based on the students' aptitude and general intelligence and not on the actual work done in the terms prior to the examination. In this connection he urged parents involved to advise their children to take the extra year necessary to completely master the Grade Nine standards rather than the present trend toward taking advantage of the leeway allowed in proceeding to Grade 10.

He praised the teaching staff for their ability to stimulate the interests of their charges in the various classes, particularly those who were carrying out their duties under difficult conditions caused by overcrowding. There were now 21 teachers under his supervision and the High School staff was composed entirely of University graduates.

Following Mr. Hoyle's report, another lively question period developed in which the High School students present joined in. In conclusion, Mr. Holly, questioned on the School's financial situation, made it clear that the greatest possible state of harmony existed between the Board and the Town Council.

Progress In Research

BEHIND MUCH OF THE PROGRESS which is being made today in industry, agriculture and medicine lies the work of the research scientist. Most great industrial organizations now rely upon research for the continuous improvement of their products necessary to meet the demands of the present-day market. Farmers are familiar with the benefits which agricultural research has given to them in regard to grain crops, livestock, soil and moisture conservation, and many other matters important to their work. Research is likewise essential to progress in medicine, which is, in turn, so important to the welfare of the entire nation. The work of Canadian scientists has contributed a great deal to the development which has taken place here since 1939, and during that time the amount of money spent for research and the number of scientists engaged in it, have increased greatly.

Carry On Wide Range Of Work Canada's National Research Council, with headquarters in Ottawa, and regional laboratories in other parts of the Dominion, carries on research work on many problems of importance to this country. A report, issued at the end of the past year, gave some interesting facts concerning the activities of this organization. It showed that there are now 2,600 workers engaged in research on a wide range of subjects, extending from atomic energy to radar. One interesting project mentioned in the report tells of the development of a new method to recover oil from the Athabasca tar sand deposits in Alberta. It is also reported that recently special equipment has been designed for the detection of radioactive materials, which will be of use to prospectors. Mention is also made of the success of work being carried on at the Atomic Energy plant at Chalk River, Ontario.

Keeping Pace With Others Reference was made to the establishment of the Prairie Regional Laboratory at Saskatoon, where scientists are working on problems related to agriculture and industries of the prairie provinces. It was announced that shortly a similar laboratory will be established for the benefit of those living in the Maritimes. Other interesting information concerning the progress of work carried on by the National Research Council is contained in the report, which showed that Canada is alive to the importance of research in furthering the development of the nation and that we are keeping pace with other countries in this increasingly essential form of enterprise.

Canada To Receive Top Coal Priority

CARDIFF, Wales.—Welsh coal exporters have been advised Canada is to receive top priority in shipments of anthracite this year.

Exports in 1948 totalled 380,000 tons valued at £600,000 ($2,400,000). This year it is hoped to ship 200,000 tons which should return almost £1,000,000.

125,414 IMMIGRANTS REACH CANADA DURING 1948

Ottawa.—Resources Minister MacKenzie said the Commons last night that 125,414 immigrants reached Canada during 1948. Mr. MacKenzie said the figure was almost twice as large as that for 1947 when 64,127 immigrants reached this country. Of the 125,414 immigrants, 46,057 came from the British Isles and 7,381 from the United States.

Child Killed By Pack Of Huskies

Margery Stolla, of God's Lake, Man., was torn to pieces by a pack of huskies as she played with them in her yard. The two-year-old huskies were owned by Tom Ruman, a local fur trader, for whom Margery's father works. According to her parents, Margery was friendly with the animals and often played with them often. Prairie dogs, which the dogs had been hunting, had eaten the girl immediately after the girl's body was found. Andy LeGuille, northern bush pilot, said the family heard the dogs fighting outside the house, went out and found the girl lying on the ground with the shaggy dog beside her. The shaggy dog was a typical husky dog.—S.N.S. photo.

FUNNY And OTHERWISE

"There is only one thing wrong with this canoe," said the soldier to the sweet young thing on the river.

"And what is that?" she asked.
"Well," he replied, "if I try to kiss you in this, it might capsize."

The girl sat silent for a few minutes. Then she remarked, "I can swim."

Father: "So you love my daughter?"

Suitor: "Love her? Why I would die for her. For one soft glimmer from her sweet eyes I would surly jump off a lofty cliff—glad of the chance to sacrifice myself for her name."

Father: "Well, I forbid the marriage. I'm something of a bar myself and one is enough in a small family like ours."

And then there was the bride who, when asked if she took this man for better or for worse, answered: "I can't tell until I've had him for a while."

Prison Visitor: "So you're here for seven years. What's the charge?"

Convict: "Lemme, guv'nor, there ain't no charge. Everything's free!"

Cub Reporter: "What shall I say about the two blonde who made such a fuss at the game?"

Sports Editor: "Why, just say the bleachers went wild."

Two men were discussing a mutual acquaintance.

"Nice fellow," said one, "but have you noticed how he always lets his friends pick up the dinner bill?"

"Yes," replied the other, "He has a terrible impediment in his speech."

A minor league of several whippets, matched one of his animals to run against another dog in the district for a $100 wager. The day before the race everyone was surprised to hear that one of the competitors had accepted a $25 note from the other and allowed the match to be declared off.

"You're the biggest fool under the sun," exclaimed a supporter to the recipient of the note. "The other dog's so lame that it can't run fast enough to beat a dustcart."

"That's all right," said the owner; "my dog died suddenly."

Oculist (handling sight testing card):

"I want you to read this please."

Old Lady: "Would you be so kind as to read it for me. My sight is not very good."

A knock came at the lady's door. A small visitor was outside. "May I come into your house and play?" came the question. "Mother says I am too noisy to play at home."

The cost of living is so high that two burglar in a clothing store one night were shocked. As one read the $125 tag on a suit of clothes he turned to his partner and said, "Jack, look at the cost of this suit. It's downright robbery, ain't it?"

Western Canada Farmers Preparing For Worst Grasshopper Invasion In History Of Agriculture

By Central Press Canadian
SASKATOON, Sask. — Prairie farmers and government entomologists are marshalling their forces and preparing weapons to ward off what is expected to be one of the worst grasshopper invasions in the history of western agriculture.

Western Canada is expected to bear the brunt of the attack, several thousand square miles of Alberta and Manitoba farmland will be swept by the enemy.

According to a survey last fall, infested districts in Saskatchewan will consist of a large area south of a line running through Macklin, North Battleford and Prince Albert, and west of a line passing roughly through Rosthern, Wynyard, Siccans, Indian Head, Middle and Estevan.

Manitoba is the worst plagued in 12 years. Preliminary tests suggest that 45 of the province's 120 municipalities will be affected. Heavy infestations are expected in southeastern Alberta.

Damage In Millions

In 1948, millions of dollars in damage to western Canadian crops was wrought by the onslaught of grasshoppers. This year the invasion will be resumed on a much larger scale and might even equal the plague of 1940 when hoppers caused almost $9,000,000 in damage to western crops.

Warned by their early reconnaissance, agricultural authorities in all provinces are launching a educational campaign instructing farmers on how to leave poison-baited trap strips in fallow fields. Warnings were issued not to sow infested stubble land but to fallow and trap strip it. The Saskatchewan government is supplying sodium arsenite poison and sawdust, with which the former is mixed, to municipalities. Manitoba and Alberta are following suit.

While sodium arsenite will be the major poison used this season, two new chemicals, chlordane and chlorinated camphene, are expected to be widely employed in the grasshopper war. Unlike sodium arsenite which is broadcast by machine or hand when mixed with bran or sawdust, these chemicals can be sprayed over vegetation where grasshoppers are feeding.

Application is possible with standard spraying equipment already in use by western farmers. Boom and air blast, 2-D weedkiller sprayers, Bofor, turbo-turbine sprayers, airplanes, and helicopters all may be used. Since aerial spraying can cover large areas in a short time, it is probable this method will also receive a trial.

Intensive research has shown that chlordane and chlorinated camphene give a higher initial kill and have a period of effectiveness for one to three weeks. One pound of chlordane should be sufficient to spray acreage.

The recommended per-acre dosage for chlorinated camphene is one and one-half pounds.

These products will be available to farmers in the form of emulsion concentrates.

On stubble fields where vegetation is short, sparse and dry and no longer attractive to the grasshopper appetites, poison bait has been found to be more effective and economical.

Possible Dangers

Agricultural chemists familiar with the effect of the new chemicals warn that forage treated with them should not be fed to dairy animals. Nor should stockmen feed treated vegetation to animals being fattened for slaughter unless the poison may accumulate in the animal's fatty tissues and render the meat unfit for food.

Another possibility is that the poison may be given off in milk and butter.

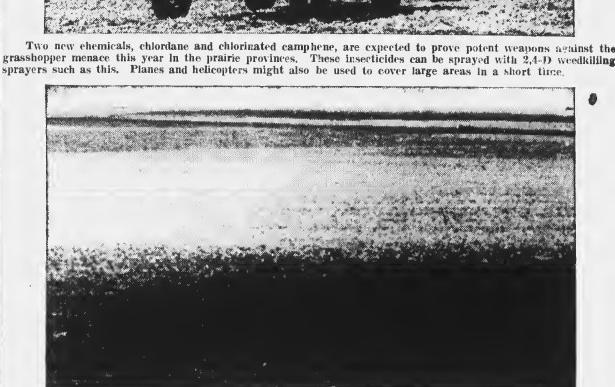

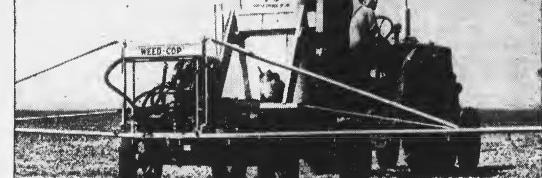

Neither chlordane nor chlorinated camphene should be applied to fruits and leafy vegetables unless fruit or foliage to be eaten is first washed thoroughly. The insecticides should not be sprayed on legumes when in flower or when bees are active in the field.

While some 10 destructive varieties of grasshoppers are known in Canada, three species are most common in the west: the melanoplus mexicanus spretus, Camnula pallidula and melanoplus bivittatus. The first mentioned is commonly known as the stubble hopper and lays its eggs throughout stubble fields. Crops sown on these are almost impossible to save. The latter two species are often grouped together in the term roadside grasshoppers. They lay their eggs in grassy spots along roadsides and are responsible for many of the devastating attacks on western crops last year.

Eggs are deposited in clusters of 20 to 120, each egg mass being about one inch long and found one-half to one inch below the surface.

When hatched by the warm spring sun, eggs do not pass through the pupa stage common to most insects, but immediately develop into tiny nymphs.

Two new chemicals, chlordane and chlorinated camphene, are expected to prove potent weapons against the grasshopper menace this year in the prairie provinces. These insecticides can be sprayed with 2-D weedkiller sprayers such as this. Planes and helicopters might also be used to cover large areas in a short time.

Description in the wake of a grasshopper invasion is shown here on a wheat field near Saskatoon. Blacked out areas in the foreground shows what was left after nymphs (young hoppers) feasted on tender young grain last summer. Light portion in the background is a stand of wheat not yet touched by the winged invaders.

Many methods of spreading poison bait to halt the grasshopper invasion were used by desperate Saskatchewan farmers last year. Here an entire family is out broadcasting sodium arsenite on an infested field by hand. Pails, baby's bathtub and shovels are used.—Central Press Canadian photos.

Mrs. A. McLean and daughter, Dolores, were Calgary visitors last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Clark and son are visiting in Calgary this week.

Stanley Osiowy has returned to Coleman following a lengthy stay in Edmonton.

Miss Jean Brown, of Fernie, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. Dewar over the week-end.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. L. McLaferdy (née Helen Shields) on Jan. 31, at Perry's Nursing Home, Blairmore, a daughter.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Richards on Feb. 14 at Brown's Nursing Home, a daughter, Helen Lynn.

Prize-winners at the Order of Royal Purple Whist Drive on Saturday evening last were, Mr. Bert Bond, Mrs. R. Saad and Mr. R. Tiffin.

BORN to Mr. and Mrs. James Walton, Feb. 12, at Newsome's Nursing Home, twin daughters, Ethel Maxine and Teresa Loreta.

Called to Coleman from his farm at Abbotsford, BC, due to the serious illness of his mother, Mrs. Liza Thomas, Bert Garrett will remain in our midst for an indefinite period.

Mrs. Patricia Hassett and daughter, of Windsor Park, Calgary, were Coleman visitors this week at the home of Mrs. Hassett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Hayle.

HOSPITAL NOTES

A total of six persons were admitted to the wards during the past week. They are: Mrs. Jessie Moore, Mrs. Florence Dunford, Betty Mae Foster, Steve Malanchuk and Mel Truber.

Mel was the victim of an accident on Main street, suffering a broken ankle. Steve, the town's early morning mail carrier, was operated on for appendicitis and is progressing favorably. Still in the wards are Ray Spilars, Trenton Cox, Mrs. Jennie Fraser and Mrs. Liza Thomas. Re-admitted to hospital during the past week was Patricia Shirley, after being discharged earlier.

Coleman First Chinook Blew in Wednesday Afternoon

Coleman's weather-harassed residents almost felt like cheering themselves hoarse on Wednesday afternoon of this week when the season's first chinook blew into town fast on the heels of a snow-storm that started earlier in the day. Expressions such as "Well, here she comes" were the order of the early evening as Colemanites cheerfully welcomed the season's first break in the stormy sub-zero conditions that have prevailed since the New Year.

The way was short lived, however, for early Thursday morning the Chinook retreated as suddenly as it had appeared in the face of an howling blizzard. As we go to press the snow is still falling.

Sidelights From The Arena

Although both were battling for the same cause, "Blank Cheque" Nicholas and "Ziggy" Zak collided painfully during a wild attack on the Graftontown net. Nick escaped with slight internal injuries but Ziggy was doing his work standing up when seen Monday morning.

"Sonny" Richards, the Traders' regular netminder, was a notable absentee from the game. Sonny was in another part of town, keeping score in the Stork League. The final score was 1-0 for Sonny, and his team mate.

The way the Fleming brothers went at it for the Legion was a revelation! The way they tore into H. Gold Maslen suggests that Harold hasn't been bringing their regularly enough.

Dingle Daly and the Wavrean brothers were feuding throughout the game. Joe and Mike took turns at bouncing off the rugged Daly torso.
